SAINT LOUIS UNIVERSITY

Office of Admissions

School of Medicine
Health Sciences Center

June, 2011

TO: Members of the Class of 2015 of the Saint Louis University
School of Medicine

This document will answer some of your questions, remind you of certain responsibilities, and to tell you about some of the scheduled beginning-of-the-year activities.

CALENDAR

The White Coat Ceremony will begin the academic year on Sunday, July 31, 2011 at St. Francis Xavier College Church. Orientation will continue with Freshman Convocation on Monday, August 1, 2011 at 8:30 a.m. This important activity is held in the Student Education Union. This event will be followed by Orientation events on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. You begin your medical studies on Monday morning, August 8, 2011. A class schedule will be given to you during Orientation.

You must notify the Admissions Office if you will not be present on July 31st for the White Coat Ceremony.

CORRESPONDENCE

Entering students should continue to address correspondence regarding academic status to the Committee on Admissions of the School of Medicine. Update your AMCAS application with any changes in your biographical information.

If you choose to forego entering the medical school freshman class, notify the school immediately, initially by phone, so that your place may be offered to an applicant still awaiting the opportunity to enter medical school. Withdrawal by phone must be followed by written notice.

LODGING AND BOARD

Housing information is available on our web site at: <http://medschool.slu.edu/housing/>.

For the convenience of students, there are two cafeterias; one located in the University Hospital, and one located in the School of Allied Health Professions and a Café in the Student Education Union.

MICROSCOPES

The School of Medicine provides microscopes for first and second year medical students.

TEXTBOOKS, INSTRUMENTS, AND SUPPLIES

We advise you to wait until class begins before buying textbooks. The departments of instruction will give direction and advice concerning text and reference works. In many of the disciplines, there is a choice of text. Some students will want to have additional books. Sharing of reference materials is practicable. Books and supplies may be purchased at the medical school bookstore.

ADVICE REGARDING OUTSIDE EMPLOYMENT

For many years, it has been the policy of the School to discourage first year students who consider the possibility of undertaking remunerative employment outside of class hours during the regular school year. This policy was adopted because new students must focus all efforts on their studies. You are urged, therefore, to organize your personal budget to make provision for your financial needs throughout the entire first year in medical school. However, there are no curricular assignments during the summer following the first year.

STUDENT FINANCIAL SERVICES

The Office of Student Financial Services has provided information on their website <http://medschool.slu.edu/sfp/> or contact them by telephone at 314-977-9840 should you have any questions.

LOCKERS

Students are advised to bring a padlock for a locker. The Office of Student Affairs will write your assigned locker number on your orientation packet. The locker provides a safe repository for coats, books and other personal property not used in classroom or laboratory.

SPIRITUAL EXERCISES

Father James Baker, Campus Minister for the School of Medicine, extends a cordial invitation to members of the first year class to visit with him in his office as soon as they are settled in St. Louis. A regular program of spiritual exercises is conducted in the chapel of the School of Medicine.

ATTIRE

Dress comfortably, but very casual dress is discouraged. Student physicians are reminded of their obligation to conduct themselves in a manner befitting their dignity as members of the medical profession. Identification badges will be provided and must be worn while in the School of Medicine and university hospitals.

STUDENT HEALTH

Each entering medical student is required to undergo a complete physical examination that must be completed no sooner than 6 months prior to matriculation. A copy of the physician's report must be submitted on the form provided to: Director, Student Health and Counseling Center, Saint Louis University, 3520 Laclede, Marchetti Towers East, First Floor, St. Louis, Missouri 63103. An immunization record must be submitted with the physician's report of examination.

Upon registration at Saint Louis University School of Medicine, students will have the option of enrolling in a University Health Plan. A student's spouse and children may be covered by a family plan, but the difference in premium cost between the individual fee and the family coverage must be paid by the student. Detailed information will be available upon registration. If you would like to receive the information before Orientation, please call 314-977-5666.

In case of illness students are advised to seek professional care as needed. Psychiatric care is available immediately should this be necessary. If an illness interferes with academic responsibilities, please report this problem to the Office of Student Affairs.

COUNSELING

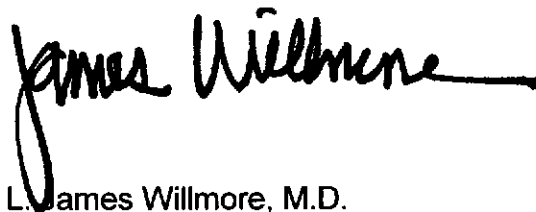

Members of the Office of Student Affairs are available and willing to counsel all students concerning an academic or personal problem. Difficulties of this nature are best handled when they first arise. Students should not procrastinate when confronted by a difficulty that could interfere with studies. Seek help with problems.

MISCELLANEOUS

Medical students are encouraged to participate in the wide range of cultural and social activities of the University at large. Recreation facilities, including the University Recreation Center and Busch Memorial Student Center on the north end of the University Campus are at your disposal.

Welcome, and congratulations!

Sincerely yours,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "James Willmore". The signature is written in a cursive style with a long horizontal line extending to the right.

1. Students claiming exemption from immunizations because of medical contraindications must submit a written statement signed and dated by a physician.
2. Students claiming exemption from immunizations because of religious beliefs must submit a written statement, signed and dated by the student (or parent/guardian if the student is a minor) describing his/her objection to immunization based upon bona fide religious beliefs or practice.

Saint Louis University Student Immunization Requirements

Diphtheria and Tetanus

Documentation of primary series of diphtheria and tetanus toxoid, and a booster within the past ten years.

Measles

Documentation of two doses of live measles (or MMR combined) vaccine separated by at least one month on or after the first birthday, or, documentation of physician-diagnosed disease or laboratory evidence of immunity. Because routine childhood immunization schedules for two doses of Measles vaccine have only recently been implemented most students now entering the University will need the second dose for live measles vaccine. Individuals who received killed measles vaccine, combination of killed and live measles vaccine, or measles vaccine of an unknown type in the period 1963-1978 are considered unvaccinated, and should receive two doses of live vaccine at least one month apart.

Mumps

Documentation of one dose of live mumps (or MMR combined) vaccine on or after the first birthday, or, documentation of physician-diagnosed mumps or laboratory evidence of immunity. Person who received killed mumps vaccine which was available between 1950-1978 might benefit from revaccination.

Rubella

Documentation of one dose of rubella (or MMR combined) vaccine on or after the first birthday, or, documentation of laboratory evidence of immunity.

Tuberculin Test

Documentation of size of tuberculin skin test within the past 12 months. Positive skin tests require a separate physician statement documenting absence of active/infectious tuberculosis.

Polio

Polio vaccine is not routinely given to adults, and therefore, students are not required to receive a booster or a primary series if they were not previously immunized. Students should, however, document their childhood polio vaccine immunization. In the unlikely event of epidemic disease, special requirements may be instituted.

Hepatitis

Immunization against Hepatitis B is strongly recommended for all students and is required for health professions students prior to their clinical assignments.

Applicability, Documentation and Enforcement

1. This policy applies to all domestic and international students entering the University for the first time, unless medical or religious exemptions pertain. Students in the School of Professional Studies must only comply with the requirement related to tuberculin testing.
2. Submissions of this record, by the date specified, is mandatory. Failure to comply will result in registration being cancelled and/or restricted.
3. The University also reserves the right to deny access to campus facilities, including residence halls, if documentation of compliance has not been provided. Further, in accordance with public health recommendations, non-immune students may be excluded from the university campus in the event of a measles, rubella, mumps or diphtheria outbreak or other public health recommendation.

IMPORTANT Orientation Week Information from the Office of Student Affairs

On behalf of the Orientation Committee, I would like to congratulate you on your acceptance to Saint Louis University School of Medicine. We have planned a week full of activities to help you feel more comfortable in your new environment. This week will give you the opportunity to get to know your classmates, meet some members of the faculty, explore parts of St. Louis, and have fun in the process. PLEASE, PLEASE Fill Out the Online Survey for Social Events, which will be up on the Medical School website shortly (medschool.slu.edu). You can follow the links to a draft of the 2011 Orientation Schedule and an Invitation to the White Coat Ceremony. Housing information is also available on our website.

Sunday, July 31 is the White Coat Ceremony, sponsored by the School of Medicine and the Medical Alumni Association. Entering students will be given their first white coats, the symbol of the medical profession. The ceremony is meant to foster professionalism and humanism in medicine. Parents, spouses, and family are invited to attend the ceremony at 1:30 pm on August 1 at St. Francis Xavier College Church (North Campus Map 1; #51) and a reception for everyone follows. Entering students need to get to the Church by 12 Noon to be fitted for their white coat. So, if you live near St. Louis, or if your parents and friends are accompanying you here that week, PLEASE, PLEASE invite them for this very special occasion. An Invitation for Family and Friends with directions and maps is included in this packet. Physician family members are welcome to participate in the "hooding" portion of the ceremony. University Maps can also be found on our website at www.slu.edu/campusmap. This is one very special occasion; the beginning of your career in the medical profession. Bring cameras!

Convocation begins on Monday, August 1 at 8:30 am in our new Student Education Union (#23 on the Medical Center map). Please park in the Hickory East Garage, 1214 S. Theresa Avenue (Garage #13). For this day, the appropriate attire is "nice casual"; wear comfortable shoes, as the activities of the day require a lot of walking. You will be registered, have official pictures taken for your medical school I.D. card, be given an introduction to the School, receive health insurance and housing information, and you will be assigned a locker. Please bring a combination lock or padlock for your locker that day. The rest of the week will be casual (shorts, T-shirts, etc.) and will provide a variety of other information about medical school life and the curriculum, financial aid, and extracurricular student organizations. It will offer some great social events and activities, all to acquaint you with your new environment and your fellow colleagues. New this year is a Community Service Day on Friday, August 5. Groups of students will participate in a variety of community service activities and finish the day at our Official Welcome Picnic and Softball Tournament. Please check the "Preliminary" Welcome Week schedule. Some social events are free and others have nominal costs for tickets and/or transportation. Please complete the online survey when it is available to help us plan for these events.

We encourage you to arrive in St. Louis early enough to find housing so that you will be able to participate in and enjoy Orientation. PLEASE NOTE... Housing information is available on the School of Medicine website. You may also call Mrs. Susan Aslin, Administrative Assistant, Office of Student Affairs for housing updates and lists of students seeking roommates at 314-977-9827. We look forward to welcoming you to St. Louis and hope that we can make your transition to your first year of medical school as smooth as possible. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us. We look forward to meeting you.

The Saint Louis University Chapter of the American Medical Student Association

Dear First-Year Medical Student:

CONGRATULATIONS on your admission to Saint Louis University School of Medicine! While medical school involves many hours in the classroom and studying, at SLU there are plenty of opportunities to get involved in politics, advocacy, community service and leadership. AMSA is one of many student organizations through which you can take advantage of these opportunities.

AMSA is the nation's oldest and largest independent student association. Nationally, AMSA advocates for the interest and well-being of patients, medical students and residents. AMSA's current strategic priorities are: Diversity in Medicine, Transforming the Culture of Medical Education, Fighting for Universal Health Care and Eliminating Health Disparities. As a member, you can get involved in many ways, both locally and nationally.

On the national level, there are numerous leadership training institutes happening all year long. You can also get involved through summer fellowships and internships.

School of Medicine Campus Ministry

June 2011

Dear Member of the Class of 2015:

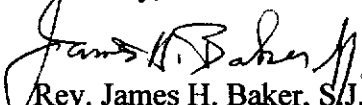

Campus Ministry welcomes you to the St. Louis University School of Medicine!! I am Fr. Jim Baker, S.J., campus minister for the School of Medicine. Please drop in at the Campus Ministry Office early during your first year so we can meet. Any second, third, or fourth year student will tell you that this office is the coolest place in the whole Med School.

Campus Ministry is here because St. Louis University wants to support you personally and professionally during your medical studies. We expect you to grow in many ways, including spiritually. Campus Ministry can be a resource to you in dealing with issues of faith, times of stress, times of personal or family crisis, etc. Our service is confidential, complimentary, and very easy to access. We serve students of all faiths in a way that is respectful of each one's religious tradition. Also, we can provide information about the nearest church, synagogue, or mosque.

We provide a range of services. For example, Catholic Mass is celebrated each weekday at noon in the Chapel of St. Raphael located near the mailboxes on the second floor of the medical school. The Sacrament of Reconciliation is available on request. Also, there is an Interfaith Student Group and a Pro-Life Group, each of which meets over lunch for presentations and discussions several times a year. We provide Catholic marriage preparation, too. And, we will have two retreats during your first year: one will be an overnight; the other will be a "busy people's" format. Our first retreat this year will be overnight of Friday October 7-8. Mark this date on your calendar early.

So, let's meet during orientation week. Plan to come to the pool party, sponsored by Campus Ministry, Monday evening, August 1. Plan on it. There will be fun and food but, more importantly, it will be a comfortable place to meet your new classmates. Spouses and children are welcome. See the pool party flier for specifics.

Sincerely,

Rev. James H. Baker, S.J.
Director of Campus Ministry
