

MEDICAL STUDENT RESOURCES LIST
From the OFFICE of STUDENT AFFAIRS
Saint Louis University School of Medicine

As an initial course of action, students seeing academic, career, or personal counseling should always be encouraged to contact the Deans of Students in the Office of Student Affairs for advice and referral. The Office of Multicultural Affairs also serves as a similar resource. Faculty course and clerkship directors remain a prime source for immediate academic assistance. In addition, there is the Office of Campus Ministry. Resources include faculty, students, mentors, counselors, educational specialists, psychologists, and psychiatrists who are available to provide information and help to students at the School of Medicine.
